Position Overview

Catholic Christian Outreach is a young and dynamic Catholic movement dedicated to fulfilling the Church's mission of evangelization on university campuses. We believe that university students are the future leaders of our society and the mission to bring the Gospel to our universities is critical for the success of the New Evangelization. Vine is an opportunity for you to make a great contribution to the New Evangelization in a limited amount of time. Vine is a commitment to offer your gifts and talents to CCO for nine months on one of our specific University campuses. Vine can be seen as a short-term commitment where you will be trained in evangelization so that after your time of service you can go wherever God is calling you next, fully equipped to live out your baptismal call to mission. Alternately, if you feel that God may be calling you to a longer commitment to CCO but you need more time to discern and acquaint yourself with the Movement, Vine can be an opportunity to immerse yourself in the life of a full-time missionary without the commitment to the internship. Although our Vine missionaries serve on staff for a short time, we honour their gifts, time and talent. CCO places a high personal significance and value on each of its staff, regardless of time commitment or experience. Vine missionaries can expect our dedication in their leadership development. This begins with attendance at a one-week training program in August designed to immerse them in the philosophy and methodology of CCO's mission of campus evangelization. Our hope is that the attitude, skills and knowledge acquired in this nine month commitment will further equip you to continue the mission of evangelization after your Vine term.

If you love your Catholic faith, have a heart to evangelize the future leaders of our country, and are ready for an adventure, then this may be the job for you!
